

Testimonials for Julie Morse's Out of the Box

"Bob Harris' life is one of mystery, adventure and countless good fortunes...not the least of which is his relationship with the author, who poignantly chronicles the journey of this enigma of a man."

Mitch Engel, Author of Deadly Virtues, and Noble Windmills

"When Julianna finds herself on a luxury yacht in the middle of the Mediterranean, she asks herself once again, who is this mystery man?....The man is her very own Uncle Bob and we get to tag along as Julianna tries to keep up with him on his worldwide travels, while also unraveling the life story of her beloved "cool guy". Along the way, we discover how this unique man created and re-created himself, and meet the fascinating and important people who become his life-long friends....I loved this heartfelt narrative of self-invention and living the new American Dream."

Susan Burke March, MS, RD, LD/N, CDE, Author of Making Weight Control Second Nature: Living Thin Naturally

"Bob Harris is the kind of guy you always want on your side, but rarely find. He's a surprise package of guts, perseverance and smarts...plus, he's a little bit wild!"

Ted Albrecht, Entrepreneur/Sports Commentator/Former Chicago Bears player

"I have such keen memories of this book...when we [Julie and I] worked together at Ragdale."

Anne D. LeClaire, Author of Listening Below the Noise, The Lavender Hour, and seven other titles

"Bob Harris is a true model of combining work and pleasure. He's done it!...Sometimes I have followed him, sometimes I have joined him - and I certainly can vouch for him."

Paul Levine, Consultant, Economic Development and Turnaround Management/Former Paper Industry Executive
